Lieber Wolfgang,

anbei die auf Alans Vorschlag leicht veränderten Unterlagen für die Interessenten an der Summer School, sowie mein neuester Brief an Janet. Ich bin schon ganz verzweifelt, weil weder Posters noch Newsletter, noch irgendwelche Nachricht von ihr kommt. Ich versuche jetzt (auch schon zum wiederholten Male), von ihr die Adressen der ESCP-Mitglieder zu bekommen, damit ich solche in "Mangelländern" (F, NL, Ostblockstaaten) um Werbung von Teilnehmern bitten kann.

Was anderes noch: Ich denke, daß für die finanzielle Abwicklung entweder hier in München ein Sonderkonto eingerichtet werden müßte, oder daß ich auf das vermutlich beim ZiF bestehende Konto für die Summer School zugreifen kann, um die (im Moment natürlich noch ganz bescheidenen) Vorbereitungskosten zu decken. Dies wäre dann auch das Konto, auf das die Teilnehmer ab April ihre Eigenleistung von DM 300.- einzahlen müßten. Was meinst Du, wie's am besten zu machen ist?

Herzliche Grüße,

Gamm,

Re.: 1st ESCP Summer School "Cognitive Approaches to Memory"

Dear colleague:

Thank you for your interest in participating in the ESCP Summer School "Cognitive Approaches to Memory". We are delighted that so many have asked for application forms, and that everyone we asked to teach did accept. I take this as a good omen for the Summer School. Another of the good news is that the Volkswagen Foundation is sponsoring the ESCP Summer School. This means that, apart from a fee of DM 300.-, you will be refunded for costs of travel, accomodation, and meals (but not drinks).

The bad news is that we are limited to about forty participants (from all over Europe), so we cannot promise that everyone will be enrolled. We all agree that participants should be European scientists engaged in doctoral or immediate post-doctoral research in human memory or related fields, with a good working knowledge of English, since all proceedings will be in English. There must be many more than just 40 of those young scientists all over Europe; therefore, some selection has to be made in favour of a European balance. Please return the application form (enclosed) by March 20, 1987. The board of the ESCP will decide on your application early in April, so you should receive a letter of confirmation some time in April, 1987. That letter will also contain information how to reach Bernried from Munich, and abstracts and recommended reading by the lecturers.

The Summer School will take place at Bernried, a lovely place near Munich on Lake Starnberg, from June 21st to July 4th, 1987. All events will take place at Kloster Bernried, a nunnery now mainly used for conferences etc. The nunnery lies directly on the shore, with a park about three miles long. The house has modest comfort (single and double rooms, showers on each floor). Please note that participants are required to stay for the whole time. Since the Summer School will start late on Sunday, and end early on a Saturday, you may spend an additional weekend in Munich, or on a Saturday, you may spend an additional weekend in Munich, or upper Bavaria (this is, of course, outside the scope of our official arrangements.

Our daily schedule starts with a lecture at 9, lasting for about an hour with another half an hour for discussion. Study time follows, lasting until lunch. The afternoon lecture starts at 1:30, to be followed by group meetings with the tutors at 4. In the evening, the hour from 7:30 on will be reserved for guest lectures, presentations by the tutors, or posters by the participants. Our preliminary programme is the following:

DATE	morning	afternoon	evening
SUN 21	-	-	(general welcome)
MON 22	HINTON	TULVING
TUE 23	HINTON	TULVING
WED 24	HINTON	TULVING	BROADBENT
THU 25	BADDELEY	(Bavarian castle tour)
FRI 26	BADDELEY	JONES
SAT 27	BADDELEY	JONES
SUN 28	(lake round trip)	JONES	LE NY
MON 29	KINTSCH	WEINERT
TUE 30	KINTSCH	WEINERT	KLIX
WED 1	KINTSCH	(excursion)
THU 2	WEINERT/SCHNEIDER	WAGENAAR
FRI 3	STRUBE	WAGENAAR	(farewell party)
SAT 4	(general departure)

Although you may well be acquainted with the work of the lecturers, let me tell you about special topics: Tulving will talk on long-term episodic and semantic memory, Baddeley on short-term and working memory while Hinton will concentrate on models of distributed storage, Jones on schema theory and models of memory, Kintsch presumably on memory for prose, Weinert & Schneider on memory development and metamemory, Wagenaar and myself on everyday & autobiographical memory. The tutorial staff will consist of Hitch (GB), Koriat (Israel), Raaijmakers (NL), Wender (D), and d'Ydewalle (B).

I feel confident that the ESCP Summer School is going to be productive and stimulating, and a memorably pleasant event for all who participate. Remember, please, that we expect your application before the end of March (latest date for posting is March 20).

Sincerely yours,

(Gerhard Strube)

Dear Janet,

another week has passed by, and yet - no posters, no newsletter. I tried to phone you two or three times, but had no success with the university number (and it becomes expensive to make all calls from my home, in the evening).

I am very concerned now whether our Summer School is really going to be a successful gathering of selected young European scientists. We have posted 42 application forms by now, but none to France, nor to the Netherlands (how's that?), and apart from two applicants from Warsaw, none to the socialist countries.

Even with our deadline now stretched until the end of March, I think that it is too late now for a poster action. (Imagine: Had we made the posters here, it would have cost us some 800 to 1000 DM, but they could have been posted in November! But now they will at best arrive some time in February, much too late.) To my mind, the only chance is to write to selected members of the ESCP directly. So again I beg you - and I must insist on that now - to send me the membership addresses, so that I can write directly to members in those countries from which we need applications. Please remember, Janet: The success of the first ESCP summer school is at stake, if I cannot get in touch with the members quickly enough.

Yet I hope that all will turn out well, and that we can meet in April and have at least 80 applications to select from.

Best regards,

cc: Alan & Wolfgang.
